To one of the best teachers I have had. Good luck in the future. Ray Moss

Mr Duckett, I have been one of those fortunate few who have been in your class. I have enjoyed all three of those years. The work I did I really enjoyed because I knew I was doing something important for the school. As my favorite teacher, you have done so much for me, more than you'll ever know because I regard you as a fine teacher deserving of my respect but even more, as one of my closest friends. I admire you very much and I hope that I meet more people like you. You have had a great influence on my life, in high school and in the way that I will mold and shape my future. Stephen Harbon

Board Accepts Challenge of Changing Needs

A growing city with growing demands, Enid welcomed the energetic Board of Education who kept the school system moving toward its ultimate goal—a number one corporation of top-ranking students, faculty, and facilities.

Realizing the confusion caused by the lack of parking space, the Board set to work early in the year to find parking areas near the high school. After approving the purchase of the American Lutheran Church to be used for Bible classes, the School Board arranged to clear the site of the old Bible building to lay an asphalt parking lot for the faculty. Shortly after the school year began, a smaller lot behind the new Bible building was opened for student parking.

Other improvements extended into the elementary schools and the junior high schools. The Board expanded the guidance program by employing Mr. Gerald Unruh as full time counselor for the grades, Mrs. Anna Mary Ridgeway as part time counselor for grades and high school, and Miss Laverne Keiser as full time counselor for the high school. New furniture was purchased for all schools, and other facilities were added to develop the instructional program.

The unselfish dedication of members of the School Board, who served without pay, produced evidence of Enid's desire to excel in educational standards. Through their efforts, Enid's School System remained in competition with the best.

Seniors walk from the old American Lutheran Church building, which the School Board purchased for use of the Bible classes.

Autry Directs School Advancement

An administration of growth, progress, improvement; a school system on the move described the third term of Mr. O. T. Autry's leadership. This year he saw, in brick and mortar, the results of his two years of concentrated effort: construction of the building which bears his name, the O. T. Autry Vocational-Technical Center was completed.

A second success of this year's administration was the letting of the contract for a new administration building to be placed adjacent to the present Education Building.

Mr. Autry as superintendent of 17 elementary schools, three junior highs, and Enid High School kept busy. He still, however, found time to serve as past president of Enid Lions Club and to be active in church work.

Enid's busy superintendent of schools warranted full praise for his concerned guidance and devoted loyalty to the community.

DIRECTOR JEWELL RIDGE and Superintendent O. T. Autry view the construction of the O. T. Autry Vocational-Technical Center.

MR. O. T. AUTRY, Superintendent of Schools.

Webb Balances Progress Against Tradition

MR. WEBB and Mr. Mauk take a moment from the serious business of principaling to enjoy a bit of humor.

Mr. Jack D. Webb, principal, supplied the spark that kept Enid High School going places. While radiating enthusiasm for the job at hand, he inspired a respect for the rules of the road—matters of custom and tradition.

Keyed to as high a point of enthusiasm as any student, Mr. Webb helped Enid High School build one of the nation's top ten high school physics departments as well as win three straight AAA state football championships. Three years principal with as many winning teams, Mr. Webb nonchalantly commented, "Football isn't history; we do that every year."

Mr. Webb's professional and community experience included service on the Board of Directors of the Oklahoma State Activities Association, vice-president of the Advisory Committee of St. Mary's Hospital, and member of the Enid Lions Club. He was elected by the Oklahoma principals to the North Central Association State Committee, effective July 1967. Currently, he is a member of the Phi Delta Kappa, an honorary national educational fraternity.

GUIDANCE DIRECTORS Mr. Jere Gigoux, Mrs. Nellie McCreary, Mrs. Betty Rohla (secretary), Miss Laverne Keiser, and Mrs. Anna Mary Ridgeway discuss problems of the testing program.

Mauk, Guidance Staff Serve Students

Efficient yet considerate, decisive yet understanding, Mr. Gene Mauk began his third term as assistant principal of Enid High School. Always available, he helped both students and teachers solve their problems.

With a Bachelor of Science degree from Phillips University, a Master's Degree in educational administration from Oklahoma State University, and 16 hours work above this, Mr. Mauk was again this year enrolled in OSU for further training.

Working in coordination with the Guidance Department, Mr. Mauk initiated new enrollment procedures. These were intended to cut time in the otherwise tedious work of enrolling over 1800 students.

Members of the guidance staff did much to establish policies concerning the welfare of the student body. They conducted various schoolwide and individual testing programs.

With the addition of two new members, the Guidance Department expanded its program. Mrs. Anna Mary Ridgeway joined the staff as a part time grade-high school counselor, and Miss Laverne Keiser as full time high school counselor.

EHS Workers Prove Efficient, Responsible

Through five busy lunch periods, Mrs. Bobbie Harper and her staff of 20 helpers fed approximately 1300 Enid High School students and faculty daily. The snack bar was opened every morning before school for the convenience of those students who missed breakfast.

Keeping the building in tip-top shape was the responsibility of Mr. Richard Meek, building engineer; Mr. Ira Cochran, head custodian; and their assistants. They repaired equipment and kept the proper temperature throughout. Night programs and athletic events called for their help in keeping the building open.

Time-Tested Material+Alert Minds-New Ideas

With note cards and pens, the junior and senior English students combed the libraries in search of material for the research theme. The unit, a requirement of the English Department, is a three weeks' intensive study of library techniques.

Helping students master correct English usage and develop an understanding of literature was the major objective of the English Department this year. The curriculum was altered to serve both the students going to college and those planning to enter a career immediately upon graduation.

Various kinds of new equipment added dimension and interest to English studies. Special films brought Shakespearian dramas to life in the classrooms.

In Creative Writing classes students studied the art of poetry, essay and story writing. The best of these writings were published in the Creative Writer, a publication unique to this class.

Yearbook Takes On New Look

With a new office, a new staff, and a new adviser, the QUILL Yearbook came up with a new look in 1967.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jannette Norman, the staff made a number of changes in the design and style of the annual.

The staff and their adviser had much to live up to since the 1966 QUILL merited the First Class Honor Rating by the National Scholastic Press Association, as well as First Class Honor Rating with the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and With Highest Honors for the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association.

Beginning with summer meetings, the staff chose the theme, "EHS Is Going Places," trying to show the driving spirit of teamwork which characterized Enid High School, and began work in earnest on what finally became the 1967 QUILL.

Quill News Features Plainsman Pup

A whimsical fellow known as "The Plainsman Puppy" and created this year by staff cartoonist, Bennie Mullins, was a feature of the QUILL newspaper. A philosophical wit, he uttered such famous quotes as "Plow the hill!" and "Tiger Soup!"

Under the supervision of Miss Ruth Scott, Editor David Hume and staff published a paper which gave an informative, inside look at Enid High School and played an important role in arousing school spirit.

The QUILL, published every two weeks by a staff chosen from the newswriting classes, brought news of high school activities to EHS students.

Scientific Research Furthers Knowledge

BUDDING SCIENTISTS, Tom Haug and Monte Hart, explore the wonderful world of glass tubes and chemicals.

As science grows, so grows the Science Department of Enid High School. Headed by Mr. Harold Duckett, the department stressed the upgrading of science teaching.

Modern teaching programs were adopted in the various classes with new texts provided for biology and chemistry students. The physics classes used a complete supply of laboratory apparatus for demonstrations and experiments.

Now in its second year at EHS, the astronomy course is a special source of pride. With its impressive telescopes and other equipment, it is almost unique among high school curricula in the United States.

Students gained recognition at the Junior Academy of Science Program held at Oklahoma State University as well as in local, state, and national science fairs. One of these students may very well be the first Plainsman to flash through the emptiness of outer space and reach the moon.

Modern Math Magnifies Meaning

A library? In a math class? Incredible! Yet this was true of the Enid High Mathematics Department. This year began the collection of books which will be of great value to prospective engineers and budding scientists.

Learning modern concepts of math was the objective of the department. Commenting on this, Miss Mary Evelyn Adams, head of the department, said, "The trend toward modernization of mathematics is an attempt to show the student why the techniques are used as well as how they are used.

"We offer advanced placement courses in algebra and trigonometry, and in analytic geometry. These present to the student the more sophisticated math, which is essential in our scientific society."

The department also offers courses in high school arithmetic, first and second year algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and mathematical analysis.

"... THEREFORE xy determines a point." Miss Mary Evelyn Adams winds up another super problem in analytic geometry.

Mrs. Griffin teaches her Survey of Literature Class.

Fine Arts Raise Cultural Level

New this year to the Enid High Music Department were two one-semester courses, Survey of Music Literature and Music Theory, both taught by Mrs. Martha Lee Griffin. Teaching music appreciation and facts about different eras in music literature and composition were the main goals of the Survey of Music Literature Class. The Music Theory Class was designed mainly for students who planned to go to college to major in music. Members of these classes also profited by attending the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra concert series, the first of which began on Friday, December 9, at the Enid High School Auditorium.

Graphic arts was one of the many techniques stressed in the Art Department this year. Colorful exhibits created by high school students brightened the EHS library, as well as several banks and cafeterias in Enid. Under the direction of Mr. Eldon Ames, department head, the first year art students were taught appreciation of the fine arts by working with various types of media, while second year students mastered basic skills, such as more detailed drawing and painting.

Costumed to sing "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly, Barbara Prentice as vocalist, dramatist, and artist truly represents the Fine Arts Department.

Five Groups Form Vocal Department

Made up of the Mixed Chorus, Boys' Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club, Junior-Senior Girls' Chorus, and Sophomore Girls' Chorus, the Vocal Music Department was under the direction of Mrs. Maurine Priebe.

Perfected harmony of the Mixed Chorus added extra meaning to Enid High School programs throughout the year. Composed of the outstanding voices in Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, Mixed Chorus represented the best in EHS talent. On the Thanksgiving assembly the chorus sang, "These Things Shall Be," "God Bless America," and "America's Heritage," a choral portrait of the late John F. Kennedy's words, "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country."

Christmas brought the traditional Vesper Service at Convention Hall. Some 1400 Enid Public School students sang in the massed chorus, made up of elementary choruses of sixth graders, junior high and high school choruses. Selections included traditional Christmas carols and religious and patriotic music.

Featured this year in the department were the Madrigal Singers. In special costumes, the Madrigal group performed for the Lion's Club, ABC, Rotary, AAUW and the junior high schools. They followed the style of the original wandering minstrels as they walked about singing with a single guitar accompaniment. Madrigals, secular compositions which spread through Europe during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, were an interesting study for this group, composed of members of the Mixed Chorus.

Patriotism was the theme for the annual "Time to Sing" program in the spring. Crowning the Chorus Queen, Barbara Baird, and the King, Dennis Wilson, concluded the program.

Final appearances of the Mixed Chorus were made at the Tri-State Festival and the traditional May Fete in Government Springs Park.

Orchestra Growth Shows Broadened Interest

Increased interest in stringed instruments was shown by the size of this year's orchestra. According to Mr. Eugene Griffin, this year's orchestra was the largest of his career as band director.

Officers Gary Brownfield, president; Johnnie Benton, vice-president; and Jeannie Beard, secretary-treasurer, felt that this was one of the orchestra's busiest years. During the first weekend in December, a string clinic in Stillwater marked the first of many appearances. In February, members traveled to Ponca City to participate in the Quad City Orchestra, composed of high school orchestras from Ponca City, Cushing, Stillwater, and Enid. In March, the orchestra attended the district contest at Alva. Combining with Emerson, Longfellow, and Waller Junior Highs, the EHS Orchestra performed at the Secondary String Concert at the Education Building.

Big Blue Band Marches to Success

"Onward Always!" could very well have been the motto of the Pride of EHS. By starting practices a week before school started, both the band and President Carl Chase were well-prepared to crown Queen Vicki Domnick during half-time of the Tulsa Will Rogers football game.

In recognition of American Education Week, the "Lamp of Knowledge" was formed on the field by the bands of Enid High and Emerson, Longfellow, and Waller Junior Highs. During the John Marshall game half-time, selections from The Sound of Music were played while the massed band went into different formations.

Led by Larry Shirts, senior drum major, and Terry Goodpasture, junior drum major, the band won top honors at the Ponca City marching contest. Appearing throughout the state, the Pride of EHS proudly displayed its unity and desire to excel in both marching and concert performance.

The many compliments received by hand director Mr. Eugene Griffin, on this year's spring concert, "Symphony, Song, and Swing", proved that this was one of the most exciting and popular presentations given in many years.

When Tri-State time came, the Enid High School band once again played host to approximately 11,500 musicians from all over the Southwest.

A familiar sight at football and basketball games, the band played stirring pre-game and half-time music that kept up the Plainsmen Spirit and brought back memories to the alumni. Without the presence of the Big Blue Band, both players and spectators at these games would undoubtly have felt that something great was sadly missing.

FACING ROWS of cubicles in her French lab, Miss Addie Fromholz begins her day of changing tapes and correcting pronunciations.

Language Labs Stress Oral Communication

After a summer visit in France, Miss Addie Fromholz, head of the Foreign Language Department, imparted a new enthusiasm for the French language. Her knowledge of the customs of the people and the everday pronunciation of their language brought added interest.

Beginning French and Spanish students listened to tapes and watched films to gain a better understanding of the spoken language. Conversational ability was further stressed by the modern language labs, where students repeated these tapes aloud to improve their pronunciation.

First year Latin students received a basic course; Caesar's Gallic Wars furnished material for the second year students; third and fourth year students held membership in Phi Epsilon, the Latin Club.

History Students Relate Past to Present

"Berlin Test for the West" was one of the many new colored films used this year to illustrate all areas of social study. Along with new books and colored maps showing various regions of study, these films truly made history come to life.

Greater emphasis by history instructors in trying to standardize the requirements of the same courses was the most important goal of the history department this year.

Although thhe now-vacant site where the old Bible building once stood brings back many happy memories, the new Bible building may be pointed to with a great deal of pride.

Once again, juniors studying American history were required to write essays on Communism, to be turned over to the Carter Foundation for judging. Cash prizes were given to the authors of the top three essays.

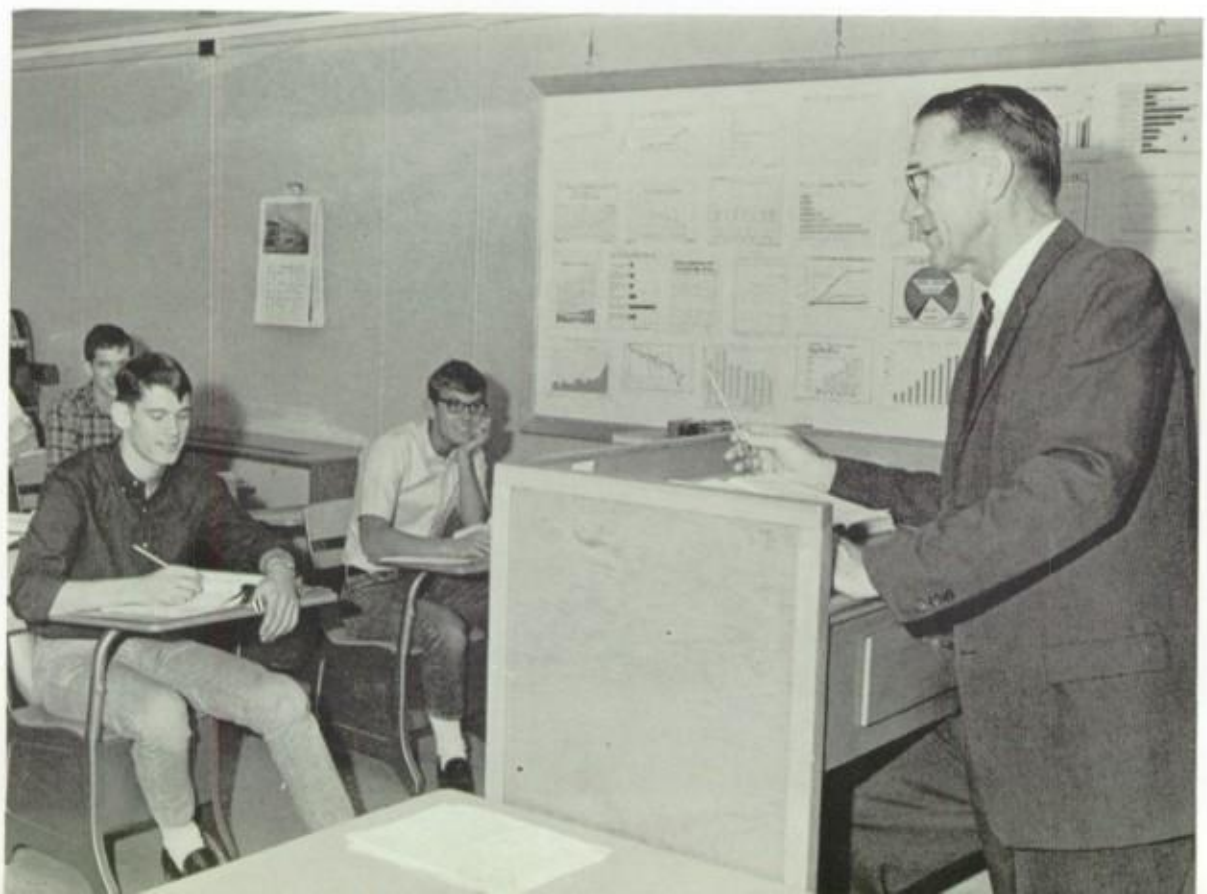
SOPHOMORES Mike Wright, Mario Garriga, and Countess Carmichael get a world-wide view of history from Miss Evelyn Sanders.

Social Science Encourages Personal Management

Added to the curriculum in 1963, Economics soon became one of the most popular courses in high school. An interest in budgeting, investment, and general management of their personal finances was inspired in the students by Mr. Harley Collier, instructor.

Dovetailing this course, a Government Class outlined the structure and function of administrative procedures from local, through federal levels. Head of the Social Science Department, Mr. Albert B. Clark taught this course in public management.

Psychology, another one semester course, limited to seniors, revealed the laws of self-management. Fascinated by reasons for their behavior, seniors took personality and aptitude tests in order to know themselves better. Membership in this class was at a premium since it was offered only one hour by Mr. Jere Gigoux.



THAT EVER PRESENT air of informality makes Mr. Harley Collier's Economics class a favorite with Enid High School students.

Business Students Practice for Perfection

RHYTHMIC CLICKING of typewriters wakes up early morning typists as first hour class gets underway.

The clicking of typewriters, the hum of adding machines, and the scratching of pens taking dictation were but a few of the many sounds that could be heard in various rooms of the Business Department.

With new texts, films, and modernized methods of instruction, a competent faculty team trained students to meet the demands of the everchanging business world.

In addition to preparing students for business careers, full-to-capacity typewriting classes offered timely aid to students preparing research themes for history or English.

The students found that the business skill taught in bookkeeping, general business, shorthand, and typewriting classes helped them to get summer jobs.

Home Ec Meets Challenge of Changing Techniques

As automation changed family life, so it changed the techniques in home economics. By centering learning activities on everyday living, Mrs. Virginia Unruh helped her students meet the needs of real life experience. In this way, the girls learned by their own experience the essential facts concerning nutrition, food cookery, table service, table manners, and consumer problems. Developing habits of good management in the use of time, energy, and equipment were also encouraged throughout the classes.

Using the skills of professional sewing, the girls in Mrs. Donna Henneke's clothing classes learned to assemble a dress quickly, along with the essential knowledge of color schemes and patterns.

Relating science to homemaking and discovering each student's ability were the two major goals of the Home Economics Department this year.

HOLDING their annual picnic at Meadowlake Park, the Home Economics girls plunge in with mouth-watering eagerness to taste the results of their cooking classes. Happy faces reflect a successful picnic.

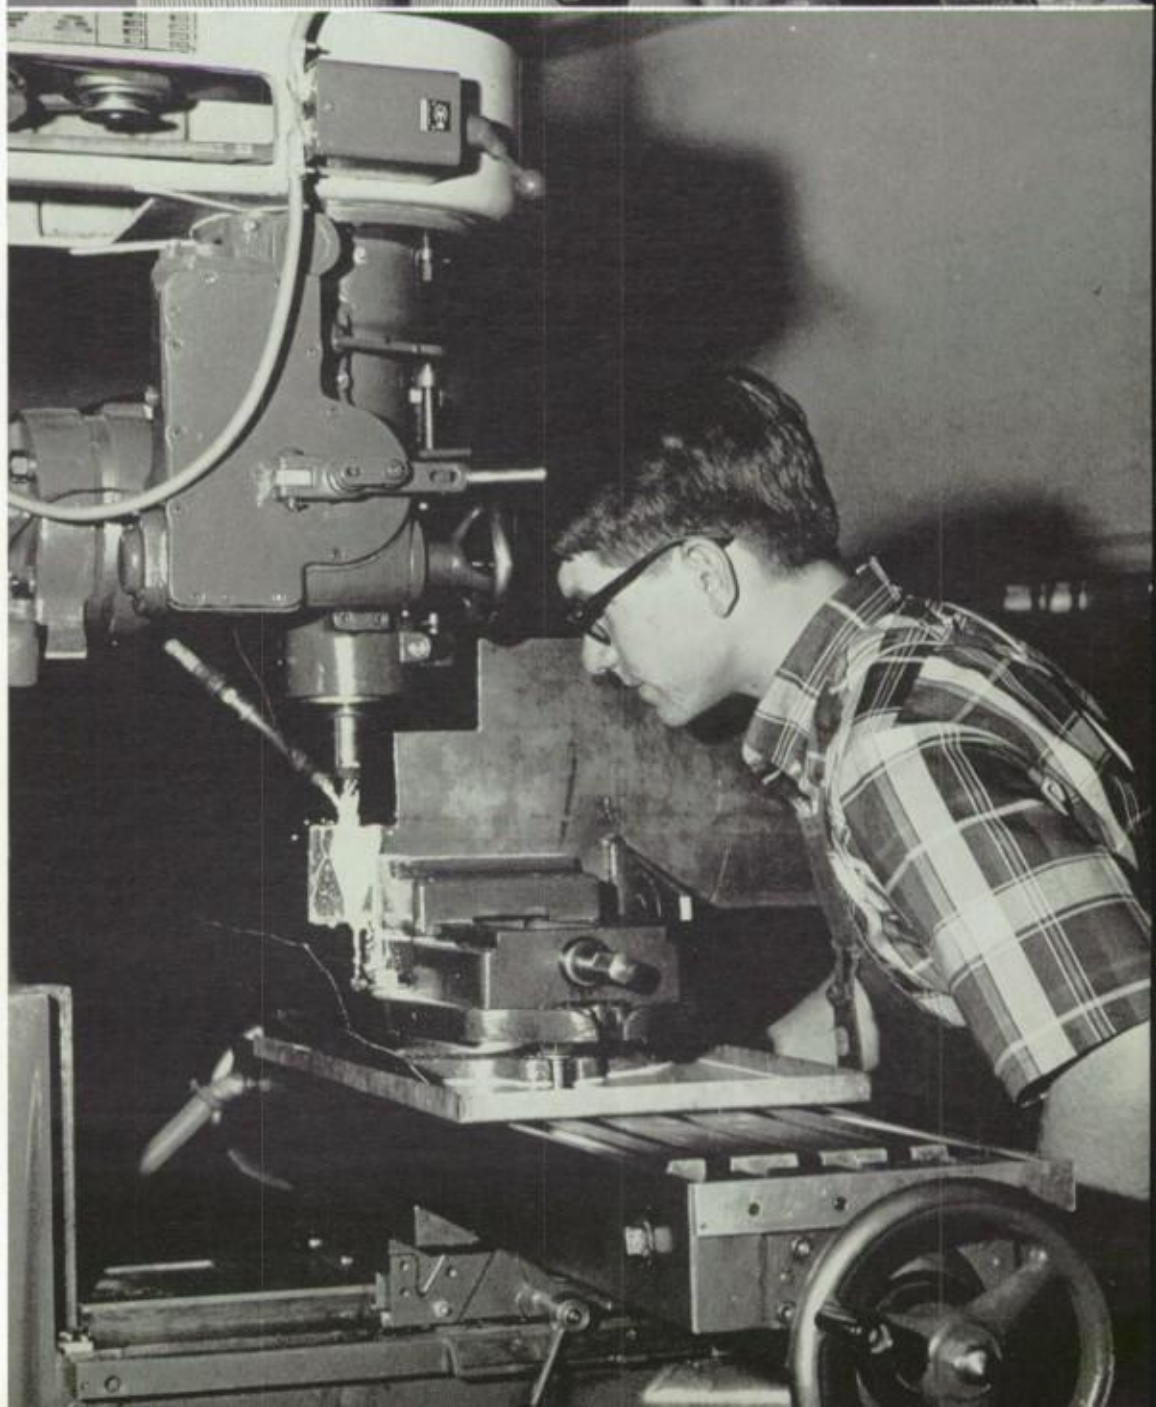
Industrial Education Proves Practical

Students found practical training for a vocation in Enid High's Industrial Education Department. Four major objectives were to teach principles of industry, to develop skill in working with tools, to give students a trade, and to help them find a worthwhile avocation.

In woodworking, the boys made such worthwhile projects as end tables, coffee tables, bookcases, bedroom suites, and lamps.

In addition to the beginning courses, the department offered advanced classes in Trade Printing, Trade Graphic Arts, and Trade Machine Shop. The study of these advanced courses supplied enough training for students to earn a living in that field directly upon graduation from high school.

BEGINNING the finishing process, Charles Roberdeaux, woodworking student, works at the lathe. In machine shop, Gary Goebel readies his machine for his afternoon's project.



Fair Features Phys. Ed. Girls

EXERCISE AND FUN go hand in hand. Gym class gets under way as warm-up routine prepares girls for basketball.

Another "first" for EHS! Featured this year for the first time at the Oklahoma State Fair of 1966 were thirty girls from the Enid High School Physical Education Department. These girls presented demonstrations of rhythm exercises each hour throughout the day.

Outstanding in the field of physical fitness, the Enid High School Physical Education Department was honored by being named a demonstration school on the President's Council for Physical Fitness. Twice a year, all the physical education classes took part in the physical fitness tests, attempting to meet the standards put forth by the President.

Besides regular gym and swimming classes, offered to both boys and girls, a sixth hour athletics class was provided for boys who were taking part in competitive sports. For the girls interested in learning water safety and first-aid techniques, there was also a special sixth hour lifesaving class.

Seven Serve School as Audio-Visual Experts

As Enid High progressed, a new staff was added —the Audio-Visual Class. Under the supervision of Mr. Harold Duckett, seven students cared for the teaching aids throughout the school. Audio-visual equipment included slides, opaque, overhead, and movie projectors.

Constantly growing, the film library was the pride of the department. Catalogued in it were 200 films, valued at $50,000. These were used by all the departments of the school in the study of mathematics, science, history, current affairs, literature, and language.

The school film library was supplemented by films obtained from other sources. All these were in such demand that teachers reserved them one week in advance to be sure they were available.

Chosen from those who held office at Boys' State, Larry Shirts represented Oklahoma in Washington, D. C. in connection with the Senate Youth Program.

For the second year in a row, Jim Stengle was top winner in Oklahoma in the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition.

NHS Impels Intelligent Leadership

Encouraging academic achievement, the National Honor Society honored students who were outstanding in the fields of character, scholarship, leadership. and service. Juniors and seniors selected each semester by grade average and personality rating sheets composed this group. To become a member, a student must have attended Enid High School at least one semester and maintained a B average, with no grade less than B in any academic subject. Recognizing these students with unusual achievement, NHS was an incentive to all Enid High School.

This year's 163 members chose as their officers Ronnie Venable, president; Steve Fuller, vice-president; Carol Tagge, secretary; Becky Christensen, treasurer; and Barbara Baird, reporter. Officers went as delegates to the annual statewide National Honor Society Convention at Putnam City, December 9 and 10.

Club sponsors were Mrs. Nellie McCreary, Mrs. Autumn Stoner, Mrs. Naomi Kindle, Miss Anita Kay Beadle, Mrs. Wilda Walker, Mrs. Mary Ridge, Mr. Harley Collier, and Mr. Dennis Iselin.

Student Council Selects New Senior Ring

Consisting of representatives from all homerooms, the Student Council was the main governing body of the school. It made the major decisions concerning the students. This year, after much research and comparison to get the best, the Council chose a new senior ring.

The purpose of the Student Council was to give every one a voice in the affairs of his school. Members presented the ideas of the Council to their homerooms and took back suggestions to the next meeting.

Inspired by President Jim Schoonover and Sponsor Stanley Jenkins, the Council sold ribbons during football season, gave a pep assembly, and published the EHS Student Directory. For the convenience of students during holiday season, a Christmas post office was set up in the main hall where cards were mailed for one cent each; from there they were sent to homerooms to be delivered. Another Christmas project was the collection of baskets through homerooms.

Eager juniors admire new class ring selection of Council.

Having approximately 150 members, the Future Teachers was one of the school's largest organizations. Sponsors Mrs. Martha Hoad and Mrs. Dorothy Cozart had a busy year keeping up with the activities of their group.

Meeting every fourth Tuesday, the F.T.A. learned about teaching problems in the United States and in foreign countries. This year's activities included an assembly for Education Week, featuring Dr. Joyce Daniels.

N.F.L. Members Excel in Legislative Debates

An action-packed year for the Enid Chapter of the National Forensic League began with two legislative debate sessions in Oklahoma City. Northwest Classen High School held the first N.F.L. debate, in which Enid placed six chairmen out of seven houses, two outstanding speakers, and two outstanding senators. A second debate at Harding High School yielded five chairmen out of seven houses and five outstanding speakers from Enid. A third trip to Del City, late in the year, brought more honors and outstanding positions to EHS students.

N.F.L. members also entered speech contests in both humorous and dramatic reading, standard and original oratory, poetry interpretation, extemporaneous, and radio speaking. Mrs. LaNora Bloom, sponsor, entered students in contests at Panhandle A&M, Northwestern State, Southeastern State, Phillips University, and Central State. From these contests, winners went on to regional.

Assistants Keep Accurate Records; Serve Students

One of the busiest rooms in Enid High was the Activity Office. All sales of tickets for games, plays, and concerts were handled there. Mr. Lynch and Mrs. Edna Newman, aided by students who worked during study hall hours, kept accurate records of organization accounts. Workers recorded payments of Activity tickets and QUILL Annuals. In addition, the office sold school supplies for the convenience of the students.

Office Runners on the Move Get Things Done

General office assistants certainly got their share of leg work this year. Not only did they carry notices throughout the main building, but also to the outside units and the new Bible building. They got a first-hand view of how efficient organization and follow-through benefitted office personnel and students alike. These assistants, who worked one hour a day to aid the school gained experience in general office work.

J-Club Interviews Top Speakers Across State

Gubernatorial elections brought Preston Moore and Dewey Bartlett to Enid, Oklahoma. Along with state wide news media, members of the Journalism Club interviewed each candidate.

This was only one of a series of interesting events made available to club members through the efforts of Miss Ruth Scott, sponsor. Meetings featured interesting persons from the field of journalism or professional writing. Membership in the club was open to students enrolled in news-writing classes.

Students attended the annual fall and spring conferences of the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association at the University of Oklahoma at Norman and High School Journalism Day at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater. These meetings offered lectures on all phases of journalism; students from all over Oklahoma compared newspapers and yearbooks.

Club officers were Dennis Wilson, president; Dennis Ballard, vice-president; Keith Hensel, second vice-president; Sue Leeper, secretary; Teri Essex, program chairman; and Jeff Covert, refreshment chairman.

Current Affairs Trigger Discussion

A "SLIGHTLY HEATED" discussion stirs club members,

Organized in 1966, the Current Affairs Club had a marked increase in membership this year. Current or previous enrollment in a social studies course was the requirement for eligibility. The purpose of the club was to develop an interest in world happenings and to make better citizens of its members.

Monthly meetings featured student speakers, appointed by the sponsors, Mr. Tom Worley and Mr. Garry Harmon. Group discussions, in which everyone expressed his opinion, followed these speeches on various topics of world interest. Sometimes the discussion became quite heated.

During the year guest speakers were invited. At the close of each meeting, a general topic, on which everyone did research before the next meeting, was assigned. Officers were Larry Shirts, president; Robert Truman, vice-president; and Fonda Fossett, secretary-treasurer.

Conventions Offer Honor, Entertainment, Education

Fun, excitement, and education filled the week of the annual Girls' State and Boys' State Conventions, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary and the American Legion. Forming their own state governments and making their own laws, the boys and girls gained new skills in these areas.

Students were chosen for this honor from applications listing their achievements in citizenship, scholarship and leadership.

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs Supply Christian Leaders

Sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., the Hi-Y for boys and the Tri-Hi-Y for girls debated their way to top jobs in the state conventions. From the Youth Leadership Conference at Ardmore in November through the Oklahoma Pre-Legislature at Stillwater in February to the sixteenth annual Youth Legislature and Judicial Program in the state capital in April, the members learned about every branch of state government.

Friendship, Sportsmanship Mark G.R.A.

Every Monday, twenty-five girls attended meetings after school for sports activities to increase their skills and to learn to work with others. The Girls' Recreation Association combined education and fun to create a healthy atmosphere for the EHS girls.

Mrs. Henrichs, sponsor, selected ten girls for all-star teams in volleyball and basketball. Others participated in individual sports of table tennis, badminton, tennis, and golf. To remain active members, the girls were required to earn 30 points each semester.

Highlights of the year were Activity Day at Oklahoma State University, a Christmas dinner and gifts exchange, and a trophy awarded to the senior girl with the highest number of points.

Officers were Ann Pekrul, president; Gloria Rodriquez, vice-president; Kathy McClanahan, secretary; Chey Westfall, treasurer; and Caroline Brune, point manager.

Aquaettes Emerge as Magazine Cover-Girls

Magazines came to life during the Aquaettes' 1967 water show, "Magazine Madness," held in Enid High School pool. The girls swam through thirteen enjoyable numbers featuring President Margaret Munger's True Romance, Coinage, a senior act, and Brides, starring the Queen and her attendants. Other acts were American West, Vogue, Hot Rod, Farm Journal, Seventeen, Astronomy, True Detective, Liberty and Holiday. Climaxing the show was the coronation of Aquaette Queen Judy Hill by Student Council President Jim Schoonover. The Queen's attendants were Beth Collin and Linda Montgomery. Under the direction of Mrs. Judy Hickle, the girls put on a display of skill as well as beauty.

New Aquaettes were chosen in September by a series of after-school clinics, where each swimmer was taught different strokes and stunts. Tryouts followed, and twenty-one girls were added to the membership.

Girl Makes Grade In Graphic Arts

How did it feel to be the first female Graphic Arts student at EHS? This question could be answered by only one person— the girl who made history this year by enrolling in Graphic Arts.

Trade Graphic Arts students were responsible for printing all forms used by the Enid Public School System. Throughout the year these students printed the QUILL Weekly. In the spring they made name cards for the graduates.

Latin Club Livens Dead Language

Latin may be a dead language, but the people who spoke it came to life in Roman Rumors.

Coming out once a month, this publication contained articles on Roman customs, jokes, a Latin Peanuts cartoon, and a Dear Venus column.

Twenty-one members, sponsored by Mrs. Autumn Stoner, made up this Latin Club. Barbara Baird was president; Judy Cutting, vice-president; Suzanne Crow, secretary; and Kathy McCreary, treasurer.

Artists Share Talents With Community

Amidst the cheering of school-spirited students, a cardboard football figure was lowered from the stage loft. From this first contribution in the fall to the Junior-Senior Reception in the spring, the Palette Club members designed props, made scenery, and created decorations for EHS.

Some 75 members of Palette, sponsored by Mr. Eldon Ames and Mrs. Ruth Sailors, met once a month in the art room for the study of all aspects of art. Speakers, slides, and films fostered an interest in art and prepared members for future work. Through these meetings, members also received extra instruction in costume designing and commercial art.

During the year, Palette members sent their works to various exhibits, including the Oklahoma Young Artists' Exhibit. They also made several interesting displays for the art room. These personal expressions of ingenuity and creativity provoked comment on the part of observers.

D. E. Uses "On the Job" Techniques

An essential part of the vocational training program offered by the Enid School System is the EHS chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. Students participating in D. E. attended regular morning classes and worked in local businesses during the afternoon. Besides gaining invaluable commercial experience and earning salaries, D. E. students also acquired academic credits toward graduation.

Preparing the students for successful careers as salesmen through the teaching of good principles and practices of retail and wholesale selling was the main objective of the D. E. program. The year was climaxed by the Oklahoma State Leadership Conference held in Oklahoma City. Mr. Jerry Simmons, D. E. sponsor for the past three years, played an important role in the success of this program in Enid High School.

Banquet Highlights D. O. Year

Providing training and experience for working students, the Diversified Occupations Club proved very popular. Students were eager to join because its members had the opportunity to earn credits toward graduation while holding jobs.

In class the students studied consumer economics, personality traits, and human relations. This program emphasized the technical phase of modern business. Students worked for employers in the Enid area during high school and many remained after graduation as permanent employees.

Highlighting the year was the annual employer-employee banquet at the American Legion Hall, co-sponsored by the Distributive Education Club. Students invited employers, the Enid High School Faculty, and the Board of Education.

Mr. Tom Kennedy, D. O. teacher and co-ordinator since 1939 was presented a gold plaque for his 29 years of excellent service.

Machine Shop, a part of Enid High School for many years, will be relocated in the O. T. Autrey Vocational Technical Training School next year.

Librarians Perform With Accuracy and Precision

Working in the library was the only requirement for membership in the Library Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rosamay Lynch and Mrs. Anna Combs. Every Wednesday during homeroom, the library assistants met to learn the essentials of efficient library maintenance.

Sacrificing their study halls for library service, these students shelved, checked books and learned through experience the techniques of library operation through actual practice.

Medics Investigate Careers of Service

A trip to Oklahoma City Medical Center was one of the highlights of the Medical Arts Club this year. Other activities included tours of clinics and offices in Enid. These trips revealed many fields open to students wishing to make a career of medicine.

Among the speakers who visited the club were doctors, nurses, dentists, research specialists, and pharmacists. As a project this year, the members chose to pay weekly visits to the Enid State School.

The purpose of the Medical Arts Club was to bring to light the variety of fascinating occupations and professions connected with medicine. Meetings were held on the second Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Jo Ann Adelman and Mrs. Margaret Buvinger, members of the Womens' Medical Auxiliary, were sponsors. The only qualification for joining this club was interest in a medical career.

Officers of the club were Carol Tagge, president; Paula Morse, vice-president; Georgann Teitzel, secretary; and Phil Kopp, treasurer.

Delta Theta Combines Fun, Fellowship, Math

"Trying to introduce the social aspect into Delta Theta is difficult," admits Greg Schultz, president of this senior math club, "but we're getting it done." First on the list of socializing was a Christmas party which all 55 members looked forward to and enjoyed.

Delta Theta members, however, were as eager to learn about the wide world of math as they were to have fun. Their hunger for learning did not go unsatisfied. Ed Shockley, programmer, and Miss Mary Adams, sponsor, brought such prominent speakers as Mr. Ray Howell, engineer, and Mr. Ed Bates, architect, who explained the application of math to their fields. Professor Lysle Mason spoke on the subject, "New Theories and Professions in the Math Field."

Films and tours also increased the members' desire to learn. Two films explained math principles in relation to our defense systems and the Bell Telephone Company. Champlain's Refining Company demonstrated the use of I.B.M. computers; Union Equity took the members on a tour through their elevators, and Groendyke Transport furnished an explanation of how math is applied to trucking.

Homemakers Study Family Relationship

HOME EC GIRLS study patterns in clothing class.

Homecraft classes emphasized the wholesomeness and beauty of family relationships. In preparation for marriage the girls learned how to be considerate, co-operative, and compassionate with themselves and their families.

With the guidance of Mrs. Virginia Unruh and Mrs. Donna Henneke, their instructors, each girl planned a wedding, designed and furnished a home, and made a budget for use on a limited income. The course further included child care, home safety rules, and emergency first aid—all very necessary to future homemakers. A practical, though often neglected unit provided information about personal and property insurance. At Christmas time each girl brought a gift or decoration which she had made to demonstrate before the class.

Teams Debate Through Busy, Hectic Season

Debating on the subject for the year, "Resolved That the Foreign Aid Policy of the United States Be Limited to Non-Military Assistance," the Enid High School Debate Club sent teams to Panhandle A&M, Northwestern State, Southeastern State, Phillips University, and Central State. Mrs. LaNora Bloom, club sponsor, described the debaters as a "group of hard-working, dedicated students."

Radio-TV Club Trains For Annual Radio Day

Developing the art of fluent speaking through the media of radio and television was the objective of the Radio-TV Club. Members prepared for contests throughout the year by writing newscasts on the spur of the moment and by practicing the reading of cold copy commercials to be read on first sight. Students took over KGWA Radio Station for one day to practice their techniques in reality.

WITH PROCEEDS going toward the Thespian Convention, troupe members Barbara Baird and Richard Taylor deliver tickets for the All-School Talent Review to Mrs. Delyte Poindexter, sponsor.

Thespians Stage Talent Revue; Host Convention

The first All-School Talent Revue, featuring vocal and instrumental musicians, dancers, and dramatists, was sponsored by Enid Thespian Troupe 1263. Awards were given to the top three acts—a dramatic reading from John Steinbeck's Of Mice and Men by Sam Johnson; a twirling exhibition by Denise Gilkey; and a flute trio, composed of Nancy Lewis, Debbie Bahm, and Sherry Hemphill. Presented in December, the Revue was a money-making project for the Thespian Convention, held in Enid the following spring. As host of the state convention, Troupe 1263 featured the winners at the meeting, where Thespians from all over Oklahoma met to discuss their projects and to elect state officers.

With a one-act play, "Carnations Are Not Enough," Thespians Jim Schoonover, Jim Musser, Kurt Kroll, David Seelen, Vicki Domnick, Barbara Prentice, and Jane Davis won superior rating at Northwestern State Teachers College.

Miss Mary Evelyn Adams, head of the Mathematics Department, was named Teacher of the Year at the E. E. A. dinner, May 9, 1966. Selected for this honor by the Enid Education Association for her outstanding contribution to her profession, she represented the Enid schools at the statewide Teacher of the Year Contest held at the State Fair in the fall.

A native Oklahoman, Miss Adams was raised in Maud. She received her B.S. Degree from the Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha and has done graduate work at the University of Colorado in Boulder. Before coming to Enid, Miss Adams taught two years in the Woodward schools and one year at Bartlesville.

Teachers Awarded Top Honors

Mr. T. A. Kennedy, Diversified Occupations teacher and coordinator since 1939, was presented a gold plaque for his services in this field. Mr. Roy Ayers, state supervisor of the Trade and Industrial Education Program, made the presentation upon the announcement of Mr. Kennedy's retirement, effective June, 1967. Over 300 persons attended the Enid High School DE-DO Banquet, at which time Mr. Kennedy was honored.

The Trade and Industrial Education Program started in Enid in 1940 with Mr. Kennedy coordinating it. He has watched his classes grow from 17 students representing nine occupations to 50 students representing 20 different fields.

Superior Team Effort Brings Results

What can a State-Champion football team do with unlimited supply of spirit, indivisible teamwork, undeniable ability, an unsurpassed coaching staff and team managers, and thousands of devoted fans? You guessed it; it can stay Number One for the third year, the only "big school" Class AAA team to go three in a row! Once again Big Blue proved that records are truly made to be broken, by making football history.

For the season's opener, the Plainsmen traveled to Ponca City. Enid tamed the confident Wildcats with a stunning 43 to 7. The Ponca City game was a preview of a brand of quarterbacking by the amazing Dale Holt that was to do a great deal to win glory for Enid and throw crashing defeats to the opponents.

Only at one time in the season did the Big Blue fans have cause for disappointment. This was the Tulsa Rogers game, the first home game of the season. Though they fought all the way, the Plainsmen finally had to bow to a numbing 21-8 defeat.

In the third season meet, Enid hosted the revenge-seeking Shawnee Wolves, who had not forgotten their loss to Enid last year. However, the Wolves could not match the Plainsmen and went home with a 20-8 defeat.

The tough and potentially dangerous Putnam City team was Enid's next challenge. The Pirates were tough, but could not withstand the strength of the Plainsmen. Enid came home with an impressive 27-12 victory.

Enid's next two foes were grounded by a stubborn defense and a brilliant secondary. The Plainsmen brushed off Douglass and Capitol Hill, both by a gaping margin of 41 points.

Enid Holds Down State Crown for Three in a Row

Improving with every game, the Plainsmen faced their first real test of the season, the Northwest Classen Knights. Tension grew throughout the first, second, third, and into the fourth quarter; with less than a minute remaining in the game, neither team had scored. As the clock ticked away the final seconds of the game, the Plainsmen came through with a touchdown pass.

Earning the right to play in the semifinals was a weighty and not-to-be-taken-lightly responsibility. The Big Blue met the Ardmore Tigers and, in spite of the downpouring rain throughout the game, slid right past them to seal the bid for a third AAA State Title.

Enid engaged a hard-hitting Tulsa McClain at Norman for a State AAA Title Battle. McClain led at half time by 21-20, but the Plainsmen came back to seal the Fighting Scots' fate 38-21.

Three's a charm, and in keeping with the third State Title, the Plainsmen landed three men on the All-State Team—Scott Van Krevelen, Skip Henneha, and Dale Holt. Dale also landed the Oklahoma Back of the Year and Co-Player of the Year awards. All-State Honorable Mention were Richard Taylor, Bob Bridges, and Ed Jorden.

Highlanders Show Promise of Championship Future

WITH OPPONENTS SHOOTING to drop the Big Blue, Enid piles up competition in a bruising battle with the rugged Shawnee Wolves in the first game of the Mid-State Conference season.

Plainsmen All-Conference choices were Scott Van Krevelen, Ronnie Garrison, Ed Jorden, Rod LaCourse, Richard Taylor, Dale Holt, Skip Henneha, and Alan Oliver. Honorable Mention All-Conference picks were Dennis Wilson, Bob Bridges, Keith Hensel, Larry Kiefer, Jim Musser, Eddie Conway, David Dawes, Steve Bell, Dennis Smith, and Curt Johnston.

Fledgling Plainsmen, called Highlanders, were overshadowed by the Big Blues, but they landed an impressive record on their own. The Highlanders fought to an 8 win and 2 loss record for the season, a remarkable one considering these sophomores played bigger seniors.

This strong B-Team showed definite promise for a future championship Plainsmen squad. The B-Team relied on guidance and inspiration from the Big Blues. Quarterback Steve Holt, halfback Gordon Williams, and end Layton Wilson were little brothers of this year's A-Team starters.

Guiding the inexperienced Highlanders, were veteran coaches Floyd Winfield, Tom Niles, and Bob Bannister. They produced a hard fighting team which showed great promise for the future.

RESERVES Chuck Groves and David Mendenhall are poised ready to grab tip-up from Bob Bridges.

Plainsmen Pit Speed Against Height

Speed coupled with drive gave the Enid High Roundballers a winning season despite a height disadvantage. Although dribbling the ball close to the floor, the Plainsmen posted a 15-8 season and finished third in the rough, tall Mid-State Conference.

The Cagers opened their season at the Capitol Hill Tourney where they squeaked past Putnam City 43-42. They then took on the Norman Tigers and cast them aside 36-30. In the finals the NW Classen Knights grabbed first place with a 72-42 victory, with Enid finishing second in the tournament.

In the first round of the Northeastern A&M Tournament at Miami, Enid defeated Tulsa Edison 46-40. In the semi-finals the Tulsa Washington Hornets stung Enid 37-35, eliminating the Plainsmen from the tourney.

After dropping the season conference opener at Midwest City 37-56, Enid put together a string of four straight wins over Shawnee, Capitol Hill, John Marshall, and Putnam City. Included in this string was a record-tying effort of 81 points against Capitol Hill. Enid then hosted Northwest Classen, dropping a hard-fought, see-saw game 39-46. The Plainsmen met Midwest City at Convention Hall and avenged an earlier defeat, beating the Bombers 51-40. They then traveled to O. C. Douglass, the conference leader. Although they dropped a 74-53 decision, the game was, in Coach Eby's opinion, among the best defensive efforts the team had ever put out.

Versatile Highlanders Gain Skill

MENDENHALL WRESTS the ball from would-be rebounder.

The Plainsmen hosted Shawnee, U. S. Grant, John Marshall, and Putnam City, and traveled to Capitol Hill, taking all five games, and staying in contention for the Mid-State Conference title. Fired up by these triumphs, Enid had victory within its grasp at Northwest Classen until a tip-in at the final buzzer toppled them 46-45. In a last conference game, Enid met Douglass on the home court, losing a 74-44 game to the conference champions.

Enid opened its AAA Regional Tournament action, rallying past El Reno with a 41-35 victory. Enid's hopes to continue its basketball season ended when Norman nipped the Plainsmen 40-39.

Returning seniors were Mike Wright, Dale Holt, Ron Garrison, Bob Bridges, Steve Graham, Alan Oliver, and Lynn Goodman. Juniors turning in Plainsmen performances were Wayne Scarberry, Doug Krahn, Matt Waack, Ronnie Stephan, David Mendenhall, and lone Sophomore Chuck Groves.

The Enid High Plainsmen employed a ball control type of game and a zone or court press. This type of pressure ball game demanded that each member keep moving and never let up.

Striders Finish Second in Mid-State

Enid High's Cross Country Team had an outstanding season this year, taking second in the Mid-State Conference and third in the state. Edged out by U. S. Grant in the conference meet, the Plainsmen got revenge by finishing ahead of the Generals at the state meet.

Under the leadership of Coach Stanley Jenkins, the team took honors at Shawnee and Northwest Classen, placing third and first respectively.

Ronnie Major, team captain, won individual firsts in every meet in which he ran. At Oklahoma State University he covered the three-mile distance in 15:53.3, a new record. At the Mid-State Rally, he shattered his own record by 17 seconds.

Tracksters Sprint Night Meets

Enid High Oval had a new feature this year, a powerful lighting system enabling the track finals to be run off at night. Enid's cindermen, coached by Alvin Duke and Jess Page, opened the regular season at the Southwest Track and Field Meet at Fort Worth with a running start on the next eleven meets.

The Big Blue played host to three major track events this year: the Enid Invitational on March 17, the Mid-State Conference on April 21, and the State Junior and Senior High Decathlon Meet.

Returning lettermen this year were Bob Barnes, Dennis Smith, Ronnie Major, Steve Hendley, Bob Bridges, Eddy Conway, and David Dawes. In 1966, the Plainsmen took fifth place in the Fort Worth Meet and then went on to win the state AAA championship, the Meet of the Champions, and the Mid-State Conference.

New Diamond Sparks Sluggers

The Plainsmen Baseball Team swung into their 1967 season March 10 against John Marshall in the brand new Jaycee Ballpark on South Cleveland, where all their home games were played.

Last year, Coach Dusty Eby's team posted a 16-13 record. The batting average of the team was .240 with the pitching staff compiling a 2.00 earned run average. Returning were the two top pitchers from last year, Chip Hicks and Alan Oliver, plus southpaw Jim Weyerts and newcomer Allen Wilhite.

Dale Holt, a 1966 leading hitter, brought with him a batting average of .286. Other top hitters with 50 appearances were Dennis Wilson .265, Scott VanKrevelen .255, and Mike Wright .255.

Mermen Splash Fourth in Mid-State

Mermen, coached by Bob Banister, opened their season on December 15 against Ponca City, overwhelming the Wildcats 62-33. They dropped their next meet to O. C. Harding 46-49. They then posted four straight victories over Wichita West 55-40, Wichita Campus 62-32, U. S. Grant 49-46, and O. C. Harding 62-33, thereby avenging their earlier loss to the Eagles. In the final dual meet, Enid was narrowly edged out by N.W. Classen 46-49. The swimmers took fourth in the conference meet and twelfth in the state.

Outstanding at every meet, Trey Parrish set a pool record in the 100-yard backstroke of 1:01. 5. He also finished first in this event at the conference meet.

Netsters Face Tough Season

Striving for perfection, Coach Tommy Niles put the tennis team through the paces to quicken reflexes and agility. This year's team had much to live up to following last year's record of 8 wins and 2 losses.

The Mid-State Conference gave returning senior letterman Greg Schultz and sophomore hopefuls Wayne Wagner, Marshall Mabry, and Jim Cox the chance to display their powers on the tennis court.

Duffers Earn Special Recognition

The 1967 Big Blue Golf Team started the season soon after the end of the first semester. To condition the boys for the rough round of golf, Coach Floyd Winfield instituted some running and calisthenics.

Returning golfers were Bob Baker, Ron Baustian, Brad Buchanan, Lowell Harris, Tim Mendenhall, Ellis Randolph, and Brad Barron. Bob Baker and Ron Baustian were awarded scholarships from the Enid Golf Association for academic ability and character as well as for athletic skill.

Lettermen Pledges Vs. Peanuts

LETTERMEN PLEDGES George Purdum and Steve Engelman push peanuts in the annual Peanut Race at Convention Hall.

Lettermen's Club held their annual Peanut Race for the pledges at Convention Hall during the half-time of the Enid-Northwest Classen basketball game. This was one of the milder tests for membership.

Eligibility for this club was obtained by lettering in some sport. This organization of athletes held an initiation each semester. Prospective members had to pass certain strenuous tests during pledge week. Some of the easier tests were wearing white dress shirts, ties, and coats for a week; speaking to no female classmates; and paying due respect to older, wiser members. Culminating pledge week, several rigorous athletic ordeals proved the pledge's desire to become a member.

From their special section at basketball games in Convention Hall, Lettermen promoted school spirit with their enthusiastic cheering. This year's officers were Dennis Wilson, president; Brad Barron, vice-president; Mike Wright, secretary-treasurer; and Kurt Kroll and Scott VanKrevelen, sergeants-at-arms.

GOING PLACES, David Bishline, Sam Johnson, Bob Bledsoe wave as John Conlon lights the fuse.

My father, Gene McConkay, in 1910 made the first pictures for the Quill Annual. Through the years we have made three generations of graduates from Enid High School.

The name Photo By McConkay has stood out in the halls of Enid High through 50 years of fine photography.

We endeavor to handle each customer as a separate and distinct "study," not simply as a person who wants a picture. That's the reason why "McConkay Pictures Are Different."

I want to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Webb and his office staff, Janette Norman, faculty and members of school body, for time and patience putting up with me.
